TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Union minister Kiren Rijju on Sunday hit out at Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for his comment that there were no "Deltas and Adivasas" in the Miss India beauty pageant and said the statement was something that could only come from a "bal buddhi" (juvenile).

"Now, he wants reservations in Miss India competitions, films, sports. It is not only issue of 'bal buddhi' but people who cheer him are equally responsible," he wrote on X.

At a Samvidhan Samman Sammelan in Uttar Pradesh's Prayagraj to demand a caste census, Rahul on Saturday

BJP's Amit Malviya took a dig at Rahul and said, "It is understandable that a 56-year-old middle-aged person is going through the list of Miss India. But it is not understandable that he is looking for caste in it. This childish mentality shows the poor thinking of Rahul."

He said the statement was a kind of "perverse reaction" according to which girls of SC/ST/OBC community could not move forward in beauty competitions. He said that the truth was that in 2022, Riya Ekka from Chhattisgarh became Miss India. "Before today, hardly anyone would have asked about her caste, but Rahul's poor thinking has limited her achievement to her caste," Malviya added.

TISS student found dead, cops suspect liquor poisoning

Mumbai: A 28-year-old first-year HR management student of TISS was on Sunday found dead in the rented apartment he shared with three friends in Chembur, reports Ahmed Ali. Police suspect Anurag Jaiswal died of alcohol poisoning following a party the night before, which was attended by 126 students from the institute.

Police initially suspected that ragging at the party contributed to his death, but ruled it out based on statements of students and the hotel staff. They filed an accidental death report and sent the 28-year-old's body for a post-mortem examination.

Sources said Jaiswal consumed a significant quantity of alcohol. Hotel staffers told police he drank to the point where the bartender was forced to cut him off. They said after staff refused to serve him drinks, Jaiswal began grabbing friends' glasses and drinking from them.

Anurag Jaiswal's classmates told police they returned to the flat around 3am and went to sleep. They claimed they found him unresponsive when they woke up and rushed him to a hospital where he was declared dead.
