"While conceptualising the design, NCRTE took proactive action to overcome this problem. It will be the next best example of multi-modal integration (MMI). This station has been designed in such a manner that it will be seamlessly connected with other existing modes of public transport, be it a bus stand, railway station or metro station."

Sarai Kale Khan RRTS station is one of the largest stations along the 82km-long Delhi-Ghaziabad-Meerut RRTS corridor

It will serve as converging station connecting all three corridors — Delhi-Panipat, Delhi-SNB-Alwar, and Delhi-Ghaziabad-Meerut — of first phase tion," said an official. He added that Sarai Khairatpur RRTS station is at an advanced stage of construction and progressing as per the set timelines.

A 34km section between Sahibabad and Modinagar North of the Delhi-Ghaziabad-Meerut RRTS corridor which includes eight stations is already operational. A 6km stretch from Modinagar to Meerut South is expected to become operational soon. The entire corridor is likely to be ready by next year.
